

GIMA Pulse

a monthly snapshot of the UK Economy from www.barometeroftrade.com

Date of Report: 05/06/2017

Summary

Despite the pound performing poorly this month, ongoing speculation over the US Federal Reserve raising interest rates in June has negated the fall against the dollar. The Bank of England has reinforced efforts to assure investors of the stability of the UK currency amidst the turbulent atmosphere of the election campaigns, but the recent terror attacks in London caused the concern among certain investors over the safety of UK industries in the capital.

The FTSE 100, on the other hand, has bounced back after a sustained fall for 3 months, riding on the wave of increased investment thanks to strong campaigns in the run up to election day on 8th June.

Mortgage approvals have hit a 7-month low, while crude oil prices are beginning to rise as a result of the severed diplomatic ties to Qatar from 6 Arab countries, accusing it of destabilising the region.

GDP data has now been released for Q1 2017 showing a marked fall. See also latest forecasts on last page

Forecasts

Summary

Economic forecasting is notoriously difficult and often depends on the mindset of the forecaster. However we have included some highlights below from the most recent quarterly Bank of England Inflation Report which provides a comprehensive analysis from many sources including their own.

As shown in the charts below, it is expected that interest rates will edge slightly higher towards 0.5% over the next few years as inflation increases towards 3%.

The following charts are re-produced from Bank Of England Inflation Report, May 2017

<http://www.bankofengland.co.uk/publications/Pages/inflationreport/2017/may.aspx>

Next report will be available in August 2017
