GIMA Day Conference: Focusing on the Hot Topics of the Day

Volatility of Foreign Exchange Markets

John Sawyer, Senior Account Manager
Moneycorp

The Volatility of Foreign Exchange Markets is the single biggest factor currently affecting GIMA Members. John will talk about the recent volatility, especially in light of Brexit and what companies can do to mitigate their exposure to this risk.

Moneycorp are an award-winning foreign exchange specialist with over 35 years experience in currency exchange. Working with multiple liquidity providers and trading in excess of 24 billion last year, Moneycorp leverages economies of scale to pass on significant savings to clients.

General Data Protection Regulation
The new data protection law that changes everything

Rebecca Hardy, Kidwells Solicitors

Rebecca will take us through the huge changes coming in May 2018 with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which will completely alter how you will be expected to deal with personal data.

The responsibility for compliance will fall on company directors and senior leadership, so we will be detailing exactly how your organisation can become and remain compliant - avoiding fines or enforcement action.

In addition to the above, we will also hear from Raoul Curtis-Machin, Director of Horticulture at the HTA, giving an update on the latest thinking from the corridors of power on 'Customs and tariffs in a post Brexit world'. George Bullivant from Garden Forum will also be hosting another GIMA Panel Debate where members will be sharing their experiences of the hot topics of the day, including 'trying to share the pain of price increases with retailers'. And last but not least, Matthew Mein from GLEE will be on hand to provide an update on GLEE at Spring Fair and the main Show later in 2018.
